

Fax

---

To: Mr Richard Gray

---

Company: TransCo

---

Fax No: 0121 711 1451

---

From: Megan Goss

---

Date: 15 January 1997*Time: 15:33

---

No. of pages to follow: 0

---

If there are any problems, please contact: M Goss on: 0171-932-1653

---

---

Please note our new fax number: 0171-932-1600

---

MODIFICATION 115 "VALUE OF 1 IN 20 PEAK DAY"

This modification has been rejected as urgent.

Ofgas recognises the importance of clarifying what peak day demand value TransCo is using to trigger interruptions and the availability of interruptible storage services. However we do not believe there are overwhelming reasons for this modification to be treated as urgent. System security is not compromised and it is not clear whether the impact of the proposed change would be large enough to justify it being treated as urgent. We do however believe, now that this potential confusion has come to light, TransCo should make clear to shippers what value (or values) it is using.