NR/1461/DK - AQ Review and IAD system

5th September 2005

Dear Colleague,

Please be advised that due to a slight overrun on work carried out to the IAD system as part of the AQ review 2005, the data available through this system today (5th September) will be correct as of Thursday 1st September.

This work is due to be completed tonight, and therefore all data should be fully up to date again by tomorrow morning (6th September 2005).

We apologise for any inconvenience which this causes to your operations.
