Modification 123 – Provision of Demand Information to Meet the 14:00 Total System Demand Forecast.

Bord Gais Energy Supply Response

We support this modification as a sensible approach to achieving the objectives of Modification 100

We had in our response to Mod 100 expressed our concern that this modification would only add additional costs to users without providing any real information benefit to National Grid Transco. We are still of the opinion that Mod 100 would actually mean the provision of less accurate information than currently being provided. This is due to the time restriction and the availability of the most up to date weather data which will only reduce the accuracy of the information provided.

As Modification 100 is to be implemented in December we would support the implementation of Mod 123 at the same time and believe it will provide more accurate information than Mod 100 and within the time frames required without the need for major cost in the alteration of existing systems and adjustments to legal agreements in place.
