Introductory Guides to Capacity and Energy Balancing

Events Calendar

---

- We have received feedback that publishing an ‘Events Calendar’ on our website would be valuable to you
- We think this is a great idea and would like to progress it with your input
- This could include our planned dates for:
  - Industry engagement events
  - Consultations
  - Capacity auctions
  - Changes to transportation charges...and more
- We would welcome your feedback during February to box.gas.market.devel@nationalgrid.com about what you believe we should include in such a calendar

Capacity and Energy Balancing Introductory Guides

- We have received feedback through our customer and stakeholder surveys that the commercial regime is complex and difficult to understand, particularly for new market entrants
- We have therefore produced introductory guides to the NTS capacity and energy balancing regimes
- The documents are intended to serve as a reference point for our customers and stakeholders and could also be useful background reading for new starters in your organisations
- The documents will be published on our website in the near future
- We will issue a separate communication to the industry containing the appropriate link
